ANNIVERSARY OF THE AMERICAN COLONIZATION Society —The thirty-fourth anniversary meeting of the American Colonization Society was held at the Smithsonian last night. The Society was somewhat disappointed with their audience, as they had hoped to enlist the services of representatives by exciting their interest in the matter, but the disagreeable state of the streets and weather prevented a very large turnout.

At half past seven the President, Mr. J. H. B. Latrobe, called the meeting to order, and Rev. Dr Parker, late missionary to China, offered an impressive prayer.

The President then, in an eloquent address, said they had met to commemorate the thirty-fourth anniversary of their society—a society that had its origin on the first of December, 1816, the early days of this Republic. The country had just emerged from a war with Great Britain. Victories upon the sea and upon the land had characterized us as a nation, and the people had escaped a common danger which had united all men. Monroe had just been elected President. After his inauguration we prospered in the quiet of peace—a peace better appreciated after a long struggle—and we found ourselves a proud, happy, and powerful nation. It was at this time that this people attracted the philanthropy of scholars and statesmen. Clay, Randolph, Madison, Mercer, and Key—orator, statesman, philanthropist, scholar, lawyer, and poet;—these were the men who perfected the plan of the home of our colored people of this continent upon another shore. In all that was done in the peace of 1815, in all the progress of arts and sciences, in all the unequalled growth of this glorious nation, there was nothing more worthy of man than this great undertaking. History has not yet spoken of colonization, but Libera—a nation among the nations—will not suffer her founders to be forgotten. In their society all political discussions had been avoided. Occupying as they do a position be-tween the North and the South, they had invaria-bly omitted everything that would lead to sec-tional strife. Nor would they depart from it in referring to the hallowed memories of their cause. He said, when we think of our position one year ago, of the proud and glorious future of this nation when last we met, and that in another year there may be no America, we may be per-mitted to look back through our tears to that day when there was no voice of dissolution. We may be permitted to recall the reminiscences of the past, if it is only to compare them with the present, and as they are common to the people, the hearts of the people may swell at the thought of them. Come what may, the importance of colonization to free people of color can not be impaired. Should our glorious confederacy be split in fragments, should this great Republic be divided and subdi-vided into thirty-three republics, and free and independent cities spring up around us, coloniza-tion will not be impaired. Should the example of Arkansas, of Virginia, or Maryland, be followed in the free States, then Liberia will be what it was intended to be, a place of refuge for the fleeing free man of color. Africa stretches out her hands for help. Nations rise and fall, and colonization shall have its turn. While they cherish the memories of a united people, from which colonization sprang, we must also aid our young sister republic. If we are surprised at the growth of our own nation, how much may we ex-Lect of Liberia, if she has the aid of our experience and our strong arm? The full extent of her growth, the full development of her being, may be enjoyed by her people when the nation from which she sprang is no more.

The secretary, Rev. R. R. Gurly, then read extracts from his annual report, but as they are very lengthy, and much of it now known among the people, we will not give a very comprehensive The Secretary read notices of distinguished men formerly connected with the Society, prominent among whom was the name of our late fellowtownsman, Mr. Gales. Letters were also read from Dr. Breckinridge, of Ky., and others interested in the cause. The ship Stevens, owned by the Society, has carried several hundred to Liberia, and in the last year about 4,000 recaptured Africans have been sent there. The report that had been circulated here about those sent over by the Echo having been sold into slavery on the African coast was false, as they are now in Li-berra alive and well. The statistics of popula-tion had not been collected, as the officers of the colony are so busy that they have not the time to engage in the work. / Cotton and coffee are raised in large quantities, some of which is used in this country. A fund of $80,000 is established for a college, but owing to unavoidable difficulties it had not yet been carried into effective operation. Much valuable information was given in the report-which our limited space will not admit of publishing -clearly proving the success of the movement. After the report, Rev. Dr. Sunderland addressed the Society in a few brief but eloquent remarks. In his allusions to the bright future of Liberia and the possible downfall of our own nation, his rearks were particularly affecting, and drew tears from the eyes of many

At the close of Mr. Sunderland's remarks, the Society was dismissed with the Benediction, by Rev. Mr. Gurley.

[COMMUNICATED THE GERMAN REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION .- We noticed recently an article in the columns of the Star, under the head "Breakers Abead!" which, whilst ridiculing to a great extent the ludicrous proceedings of the German Republican Association of this city, throws an unpardonable reflection upon the entire German population of this District. The tone and spirit of the article referred to, would lead one unacquainted with the merits of the case to indulge in the belief that the few individuals of German parentage composing the so-called German Republican Association constitute the authorized and duly elected repreentatives of the 8,000 German inhabitants of the District, or at least that portion of the same belonging to the republican party. This is a great error. Upon proper and reliable inquiry amongst our permanent resident German citizens-men of influence, property, and supporters of families, who, before all others, are interested in the welfare of our country—we find that none of these belong to the association in question. They dis-ciaim all affiliation in connection with the same, and condemn in the strongest terms the actions on the part of a few individuals who, uncalled for and without authority, would take it upon themselves to represent the citizens of German extraction of the District of Columbia!

In fact, the German Republican Association represents nobody, except, perhaps, the few members of which it consists; and it appears to us that the Wigwam is badly soid if its members are under the impression that a handful of individ uais who so botsterously urge their claims (for what services?) under the auspices of an empty and silly pretext of being the standard bearers of our solid and respectable German speaking inhabitants. The Association represents nothing at all of consequence; and it is but too often the case that the public mind is tortured and led astray by the publication of rodomontade resolutio s, proposed and endorsed by half a dozen persons unsnown to a discriminating community. So much "BREAKERS AHEAD." for the present.

SUPERME COURT-Tuesday .- No. 27. Christopher G. Pearce et al., incorporated and acting under the name of "The Niles Works," appellants, agt Jesse W. NEW FAIRFAX CAVALRY COMPANY .- At an adjourned meeting of this company, held at Mount Pierce, Fairfax county, on Saturday last, S. R. Johnson, Peter Hanney, and R. R. Fowle were appointed a committee to prepare a constitution for the government of the company. The committee at the last meeting to obtain members, reported that they had succeeded beyond their expectations, forty-two having already signed the roll list, and that a number more had signified their intention of joining at the next meeting, which takes place next Saturday, at 12 o'clock, at Catts' Tavern, West End -Alex. Gaz.

To-NIGHT, at the New York avenue Presbyterian church, the concert under the direction of Mrs. Cecelia Young will be given. The well known talent engaged for the occasion, and the selection Jof pieces, will render it a rich entertainment Look at the notice for particulars.

POLICE MATTERS .- Before Justice Thompson Wm. Budd was tried on a charge of stealing a pheasant from Edward D. Butler. In default of bail the defendant was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

[FOR THE STAR. A VIRGINIAN BORN, who is well acquainted with General Edward C. Carrington and the his-with General Edward C. Carrington and the history of his family, who is in favor of the Union, the Constitution, and the faithful execution of the laws, and who loves his country and justice better than his party, observed with surprise in the States the following card:

"Scared.—E. C. Carrington, a small lawyer of Washington, (the abolition papers call him General Carrington,) is marshaling the officeseekers of the District of Columbia to do something terrible in behalf of the Union "—Charleston Mercury.

Who is this snall lawyer? The same who, in Who is this s.nall lawyer? The same who, in Who is this sinall lawyer? The same who, in the twenty-first year of his age, appeared upon the application of the distinguished divine, Dr. Wim. Plummer, as junior counsel to Messrs. Taylor and McFarland, upon the constitutional question whether the Virginia Legislature had a right to tax the salaries of ministers of the Gospel. This argument was pronounced by the Richmond bar one of great eloquence and ability. The case was decided in his favor by the General Court of Virginia.

decided in his favor by the General Court of Virginia.

The same who argued a case of great importance before the Court of Claims, and which was published in pamphlet form at the special request of his clients, and which speaks for itself. The same who received a fee of one thousand dollars from the general Government for his argument in the case of the Great Falls Manufacturing Company, and which was pronounced by all who heard it, among the rest Capt. M. C. Meigs, one of great eloquence and ability. The same who was prosecuting attorney in the 26th year of his age in his native State. The first whig who represented the strong democratic county, Botetourt, in the 24th year of his age, running some 200 votes ahead of the vote received by Gen. Taylor and George W. Summers, who was never beaten in his county, although opposed by the strongest and most influential democrats in the county, who, while a member of the Virginia Legislature, moved an investigating committee in the affairs of the James River and Kanawha Canal Company, denounced their tardy movements, and imparted new life to that great work of interest. pany, denounced their tardy movements, and imparted new life to that great work of internal improvement. The little village of New Castle, which he represented, was illuminated in honor of his fidelity and success. Served through the whole of the Mexican war as a Captain of volunteers, and was presented by the citizens of Richmond with a sword. Commanded the Washington Light Infanty, the oldest and one of the best companies in our city, and which marches at the right of our regiment. Appointed a General of the District Militia upon the recommendation of distinguished democrats.

To show General Carrington's standing at the Washington bar, the writer points with confidence to the dockets of the Circuit and Criminal Courts. He is the eldest son of the hero, patriot, and philanthropist, General Edward C. Carrington, deceased, late of Virginia, who was twice wounded in the war of 1812, and breveted for his gallantry by President Madison, and spent his ife and a large fortune in the cause of religion, temperance, and learning. The grand nephew of General Edward Carrington, General George Carrington, Col. Clement Carrington, and the grand son of Judge Paul Carrington, Jr., and great grand son of Judge Paul Carrington, Sr., (who was Judge of the Court of Appeals of Virginia,) all of whom offered their blood and treasure to make this great Government, which their to make this great Government, which their descendant with all other true patriots are now trying to save. On his mother's side he is the descendant of Patrick Henry-the nephew of the Hon. Wm C. Preston, deceased, once the Senator of the United States from South Carolina; the grand son of General Francis Preston, deceased once a Senator of the United States from Virginia and a great grand son of General Wm. Campbell. the hero of King's Mountain. Gen. Carrington is the devoted friend and admirer of Gen. Scott. He met the Hon. Henry A. Wise in discussion when General Scott was a candidate for the Presidency, and if the reports which were given of his speeches by those who heard him and by the Virse ginia papers at that time are to be believed, bis ulogium upon the old hero would not have done discredit to General Carrington's distinguished uncle, the Hon. Wm. C. Preston.

Gen. Carrington is a Christian gentleman, who loves truth and his country better than party. The writer of this article can furnish (if n record evidence of nearly every fact herein stated Union men!-hear one who knows-you have in Gen. Carrington a leader worthy of the cause in which you are engaged. Stand by him to the last! His sentiments, I believe, are endorsed by a majority of the people of Virginia; and if politicians will only allow the question of the Union to be referred to the people, the truth of the opinion I express will be fully vindicated. The people are now demanding it, but the disunionists and traitors, who were elected before the issue was made, are now trying to prevent it. The was made, are now trying to prevent it. The States and Charleston Mercury, if they are willing to do justice to a brave and honest man, will please copy. (1t*) A VIRGINIAN BORN.

TEMPERANCE HALL, LAST NIGHT .- This noted place for the meeting of various organizations was occupied last night from garret to cellar, and the rooms were all illuminated. In the upper hall the National Rifles were engaged in their regular drill. The Metropolitan Rifles occupied the east room of the first floor, and were engaged in squad drill; the company was divided into four squads. each in charge of a sergeant. The hall is not large enough to accommodate them, and they have engaged the basement of old Trinity church on Fifth st , for their meetings and drills. The Sons and Daughters of Temperance occupied the west room of the first floor. In the basement the officers of the Union Regiment met for consultation, having in view the adoption of a uniform for the regiment, and also the obtaining of arms. Capt. Kelly, of the First Ward, was called to the chair, and Lieut. Baden appointed secretary. It was agreed to recommend to the companies the adoption of a grey jacket (similar to that of the Metropolitan Rifles) and grey pants. Application for arms will be made to-day, and the result will be announced to the regiment immediately. The companies of the First, Third, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Wards were represented by their officers. It was stated that there are several military organ-izations in the Fifth and Sixth Wards, one of which is a disunion company.

MORE THIEVING ABOUT THE MARKETS-INCEN-DIARY ATTEMPT - Last Friday night, the stand in Centre Market occupied by Mr. F. M. Bradley was broken open and a quantity of fruit stolen therefrom. Extra precautions were then taken to prevent another entrance of the rogues, but on Sunday night they again visited the premises, broke open two padlocks, entered the stand, and helped themselves to as much as a dozen men could conveniently carry. An overcoat belong-ing to Mr. Bradley, which had been left in the stand on Saturday, was also stolen. Having me with so much success, the villains concluded that they would call again. So, during last night, they did so, but were unable to effect an extrance. Not willing to be foiled in this manner, they attempted to fire the stand, but it is presumed were frightened away ere the fire had made much progress. Paper filled with camphene, and partially destroyed by the fire, was found scattered about. As the stand is adjoining the old guardhouse, and also connected with the lower part of the markethouse, which is composed of light material, the probability is that a destructive conflagration would have resulted from this incendiary attempt if the perpetrators had not been driven off.

WASHINGTON THEATRE .- Undoubtedly one of the most remarkable theatrical exhibitions ever witnessed in this city is that announced for tonight. We have here a company of Zouaves, members of that wenderful band who performed such prodigies before Sebastopol, who, to lighten the rigors of that siege, formed themselves into a theatrical corps, and alternately, as the occasion required, took part in the mimic or real drama with equal spirit. Who would not travel fifty miles to see a live Zouave? Here we have the pick of them, undoubted participators in the stirring events of the Russian war, and, moreover see them in some of the most effective and brilliant pieces upon the French stage. The capital regular company of the theatre also takes part in the entertainment of the evening.

REARREST AND RETURN OF AN ESCAPED CONvict.—About four months ago two prisoners, Johnson and Small, escaped from the U. S. Penitentiary. Every effort was made at the time to trace and recapture them, but without success. Yesterday morning Deputy Marshal Jenkins, of Philadelphia, arrived in this city, having in custody one of the fugitives, Small, whom he recap-tured in Philadelphia. He was immediately de-livered into the custody of Warden Sengstack, and restored to his former place in the prison

PROM H. H. HAZARD, Esq.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 26, 1860.

S. W. Fowle & Co.—I was for a long time afflicted with Dyspepsia in its werst form. My appetite was gone, and what little food I took was thrown us after remaining in the stomach a short time. My abdomen was very much bloated. In fact there was complete derangement and prostration of the digestive powers. Several very eminent pysicians attended me at various times, but their treatment gave but little, and that only temporary relief. My sufferings were intense, and I became reduced to a mere skeleton. At this time one of our druggist induced me to try the celebrated Oxygenated Bitters, which I did, though with little faith and great reluctance—for I had tried so many that I had come to the conclusion that all proprietary medicines were alike worthless—but after taking the first bottle I was so much relieved that I continued the use of them until a perfect cure was effected. I now most cheerfully recommend the Bitters to all as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT Holloway's Pills and Ointment of the French government, these medicines are admitted free of duty into all ports of France. They are extensively employed in all the public and military hospitals throughout the Empire. The Emperor has signified his appreciation of their virtues in an autograph letter, to Dr. Holloway. During the late Campaign in Italy, large quantities were used for the wounded at Brescoia and Montechiero. Fold by all Druggists, at 25 cts., 62 cts., and $1 per box or pot. and $1 per box or pot.

COUGHS.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stazes of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement. voice. See advertisement.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his celebrated Bitters. The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the Bitters, and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who would not give it a trial?

GEORGETOWN.

Correspondence of The Star.

GEORGETOWN, January 16, 1861. In noticing the improvements in our city, we have heretofore omitted all mention of the enlargement of the fine dwelling house on Prospect Hill, formerly the residence of Dr. Mann. The present owner (Captain Templeton, late of New Orleans,) has added a lofty story to the main building, and an octagonal projection on the east side, which, with the interior adornments and arrangements for comfort and convenience, will make it one of the most capacious and handsome dwellings in the District. The site is a fine one, commanding a view not only of Washington city but of our noble Potomac for several miles of its course. The work has all been done in a manner creditable to the mechanics engaged thereon. Messrs. S. & E. Wroe were the bricklayers, and contractors for the whole work. W. Clawelt, exp. contractors for the whole work; Mr. Clampit, carpenter; Mr. Rylea, plasterer; Messrs. Clements &
Bro., painters; Mr. Snyder, plumber and gas fitter.
Another improvement is the large building erected by Mr. Boucher at his wood yard, for a steam engine and machinery for sawing and splitting wood.
